

CLAIMS

What I claim as my invention is:

1. A writing instrument, comprising:
an elongated hollow body for being worn on a finger, wherein said body is longitudinal and cylindrical, and which has an opening at rear or upper end for facing said hand, a front or lower end for positioning adjacent a writing surface, an adjustable closure for sizing or fitting, and wherein said body narrows from upper to lower end; and an internal cartridge or tube containing ink or other writing material, extending through said lower end and tip.
2. The writing instrument of claim 1, wherein said body fits about from knuckle and extends past finger tip, so that said upper end of body is positioned for supporting said base of said finger.
3. The writing instrument of claim 1, wherein said tip at lower end is detachable from said body for accessing or refilling said internal cartridge.
4. The writing instrument of claim 1, wherein said device is designed to work independently of other fingers on a single finger and without any gripping necessary.